DESIGN PRESENTATION CREATED FOR THE WEDDING CELEBRATION ON OCTOBER 7, 2017

PERSONAL FLOWERS

For Katie: An organic, lush bouquet with a slight cascade in shape of a mix of white florals, including roses, gardenias, and olive leaf finished with a fine ivory silk ribbon (three options pictured top row).

For the grandmothers: A white cymbidium orchid wristlet corsage.

COCKTAIL HOUR

Following the ceremony, guests will traverse the property along a 220' long by 5' wide path of flooring to the reception tent in the back of the property. This path will be illuminated with groupings of lanterns and pillar candles for visibility.

Entrance to the 86' long by 66' deep sailcloth tent will feature a similar garland of greenery as the bridal party tent draped at the center bay opening of the space (pictured at left, center row).

Upon entering the reception tent, guests will first be greeted by a 16' circular exposed wood bar, which may be accessed from all sides so as to minimize lines.

There will also be two satellite bars in the back of the tent on either side of the stage as well. Bars will bear a tufted ivory facade and have two columns on each side featured lush, green arrangements in urns as pictured at left, bottom right.

RECEPTION: TENT INTERIOR

String bistro lights will drape throughout the space to provide ambient overhead lighting. On each of the 6 interior poles, we will bring the outdoors in with faux birch trunks along the length of the poles with branches fashioned in an organic manner, reach high above the guest tables.

The long banquet tables will be exposed wood farm tables featuring a runner of dusty blue ethereal muslin fabric down the center. Suspended over the long tables will be an organic arrangement of dripping greenery and a mix of white florals.

On the table top will be white florals in footed compote arrangements and a mix of pillar and votive candles in cut glass hurricanes.

Seating at the long farm tables will consist of padded cane back chairs.
